legislature, as well as thus far of this session, has been to pass every local bill, whenever presented. Why then this sudden change-why do gentlemen pounce upon this bit of a poor bill of mine-could they not see a wrong in their course until this unfortunate bill came up for action? Pike county it seems must be made to suffer-she must be the scape goat of the sin of local legislationand when they have given vent to their horror of "local legislation," and injured, and trampled upon the rights of my people, then they, like the strange woman spoken of in the scriptures, lick their lips, say "what evil have we done!" and continue in their old course of local legislation.

The features of this bill, and the reasons that lead to its introduction here, are of exciting interest to the people of like county. The Commissioner that was elected, was not the choice of the people in the District for which he was elected. He lived in an ther part of the county,and received but few votes of that District, and yet in the county got upwards of one hundred majority over the choice of the District, and so was forced upon ed in the Board. He was not of them, he did not county in which he lived, prevailed over the wishes of those in the District for which he was chosen. 5,300 do of weakness and general debility;

This was not in their estimation right, Mr. Speaker, the very principle of our resolution was the right of representation. The very fundamental principle of this govrnment, is the doctrine and right of representation. First the States, as States, have the right of representation; then the people of a certain portion of the State have a right of representation in the National councils, as will also in the sented. By the law of the State, the several counties are divided into Districts for certain purposes. Now and different measures to be carried out, however small they may be, and as of vital importance in their sphere as in States. Is it not right then, that each District should have the right of stating its wants and its necessities! How can they do it, unless they meet in a body, which they cannot do, unless by a Repre- ed about the country by ignorant pretenders. Those who take sentative of their own choice! Or would it be better, to take some one, from his neighbors would be against those of that District.

No one can besitate as to this. Mr. Speaker, I do hope gentlemen, will let this October, and on motion of Mr. Brown, the House insist- bill pass. Gentlemen, will find me more grateful by supporting this bill, than to inform me what Pike county wants,-or attempting to thwart the desires | supply of this wonderful Tonic : of my constituents, and when the rights of none else are infringed upon. My constituents are an intelligent people, -they are practical in their views, and honest. Their great power consists in their peculiar effect upon all the organs of the system, and the rapta formation or new and rich blood, which they roduce. In this has the great secret of their success. They are mild and pleasant in their action, but searching and permanent in their effect; penetrating the remotest recesses of the system by their ready absorption into the blood, thereby infusing a new supply of vitality and nervous power into all the machinery of li e.
